

RE: FCC review of the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law

As a highly private person, I have relished the current Indiana Law. We have paid extra for an unlisted phone number. I used to receive 2-3 calls per week, of which at least 1 resulted in answering the phone and finding no one at the other end.

My home is the only place where I can find some degree of privacy. We still get the occasional door to door solicitor. Please do not lessen this law. Let the telemarketers use traditional mail or tv or newspaper, where I have the option of reading/watching, and am never interrupted from what I was doing.

Thanks for the opportunity to give my opinion,
Richard B. Parke